

IF I SHOULD NOT

If I should not make it through the night
I wouldn't miss anything
But seeing your light deep eyes just one more time
If I should not feel your head again
Restin' on my breast dear,
Tears would come and stand on my face

And this lets me know
I'm gonna live each moment as if it were the last
I've got to feel the wind and love this rain
So these tears of mine would come from joy
And not just from pain

If I should not touch your hands again
While they glide between my fingers
I would wait for the night and feel 'em in my dreams
And if I should not wander through this world
And time with you, I'd feel that emptiness
But I would live my life makin' it shine

'cause you made me learn that you could never possibly be mine
For you are the Earth beloved child
The only freedom lies within those places
Where we cannot hide
