

ONE IN A BILLION (Sergio Cocchi)

Walkin' down the streets today
Each single face a different shade Everyone 's got a story that' I'd love to hear When they pass me by , their scent so near I can sense flowers and a bit of tears
The whole world in a single smile
Wiping away the six basic fears

There's a billion beautiful girls
but none of them suits my world
the way you do, oh yeah, baby it's true

So many talks , each one their unique way I can't speak the language, but I bet they got something to say Well I'd love to listen, I wonder what they're talking about I'd love to hear them whisper, holler and shout YEAH
A lot of people stare but they just can't hear A whole world in a single sound

Wiping away the six basic fears

There's a billion beautiful girls
but none of them suits my world
the way you do, oh yeah, baby it's true

There's a billion beautiful girls
but none of them suits my world
the way you do, oh yeah, baby it's true

Many many beautiful girls
So Many many bbut only you give me the right foundation, right vibration you lift me up high

Cause There's a billion beautiful girls
but none of them suits my world
the way you do, oh yeah, baby it's true
