

TODAY

Here I am like a fallen star
Blind and deaf to the call of life
Afraid that you took my dreams away with you

But then I looked inside my sack
And there they were, all of my dreams
They only got a little creased
Like a dress that needs to be washed and cleaned

And now i'm in beetween joy and sorrow
'Cause memories could kill my tomorrow
I won't think too much, it might be the only way
To fully live Today

It's easy to say " live for the moment ! "
But it's hard to do when they always told you
" You have to look ahead ! " But don't they know
The present is my future ? And...

... now i'm in beetween joy and sorrow
'Cause memories could kill my tomorrow
I won't think too much, it might be the only way
To fully live Today
